INTRODUCTION

The Vanguard Way Companion is intended to help you plan your itinerary, by providing details of public transport and a guide to facilities such as accommodation, opportunities for refreshment, toilets, phone boxes, post offices, shops selling food and outdoor equipment, places of entertainment, police stations and hospitals (though in an emergency you should of course dial 112 or 999).

If you find problems along the route, such as obstructions, crops growing on public rights of way, broken stiles etc., we provide the contact details for the relevant highway authorities as indicated in the route description. In such cases please remember to let us know too by emailing graham@vanguardway.org.uk.

A list of local tourist information centres is provided in case you need further information about places or attractions in the area.

Finally, that all-important subject for walkers - the weather. We suggest how you can obtain a forecast for the area.

TAXIS AND MINICABS

Here is a selection of operators based on or near the Vanguard Way, which we have found by searching Yell.com online. There are others and inclusion in this list does not constitute a recommendation.

For more visit www.yell.com or call Talking Pages on 118 247 (14p per minute plus 79p if you wish to be put through, number may vary on some mobile phone networks). You can also visit www.traintaxi.co.uk to find numbers for taxis near a rail station.

In Greater London, with mobile phones you can use the Transport for London (TfL) Cabwise service. Text HOME to 60835 - this will provide the numbers of one licensed taxi service and two licensed minicab (pre-booked only) services. There is also the TfL Cabwise app for smart phones.

Fares vary but should be in the region of £4-5 per mile (£6 per mile in Greater London) - this may seem a lot, but bear in mind that you also have to cover the taxi's return journey. In theory, calling the nearest operator should be cheaper and bring a car most quickly to your location.

Numbers commencing 08 may change to 03 in the near future, and may vary from some mobile phone networks.

FACILITIES GUIDE

The following information is a guide to facilities that may be useful to the Vanguard Wayfarer, where we know they exist, particularly accommodation and refreshments. Information is subject to change and you are advised to check beforehand that any facilities you require are available - phone numbers and websites are given where known. Email addresses can usually be obtained from websites where available.

For places with a wide selection of establishments, such as Croydon, East Grinstead and Seaford, we have necessarily had to be selective, generally choosing those that are most convenient to the route or station links. It is impractical to include all the information we would like about facilities along the route, so we just provide basic details.

Places some distance off route that have the nearest available emergency facilities - such as police stations, hospitals etc. - or tourist information centres are also shown.

Inclusion in this list in no way constitutes a recommendation, and we cannot accept responsibility for any shortcomings, but we shall be pleased to hear your opinions of places you have used along the route. We would also be most grateful if you could pass on to us details of any changes to the information shown, of establishments not included here, or of any shown that are no longer available. Please send your comments to Colin Saunders, 35 Gerrards Close, London, N14 4RH or email colin@vanguardway.org.uk.

How to use the facilities guide

Locations are listed in order from north to south. Within each location, accommodation facilities are shown first, in ascending order of price range, then refreshment facilities, then other facilities such as toilets, phone boxes, tourist information centres and shops.

(VGW) indicates a position beside or very close to the route.

> indicates places that are at least 1 km off route.

Figures in brackets indicate approximate distance in kilometres off-route.

TQ or TV followed by a six-figure number indicates the grid reference for location of accommodation and refreshments, where known.

The Facilities Line Diagram on the following pages should help you work out at a glance where to find public transport, accommodation and refreshments, and how far between them. Then refer to the list to find details of what is available.

 Places with refreshments only in lower case.
Break points (no accommodation or refreshment facilities) in italics.

VANGUARD WAY COMPANION

ACCOMMODATION

Establishments providing accommodation up to around 3 km off-route have been included to provide a wider choice, sometimes a little further where accommodation is in short supply.

Establishments that are some distance off route may be willing to provide transport from and back to the route.

If you prefer to ‘walk light’, with just the items you need for the day, you could consider sending your main baggage ahead by taxi (see pp 7-9), or some accommodation establishments may be willing to do this for a fee.

The type of accommodation is indicated by the following letters:

- C Camping facilities
- G Guest house, or B+B (bed and breakfast)
- H Hotel or inn
- Y Youth hostel

Generally, hotels and inns are licensed to sell alcohol but guest houses and B+Bs are not, though there are exceptions.

Actual prices are not shown since they can fluctuate considerably. As a guide, our ‘x’ system indicates the approximate price range for bed and breakfast, per person per night sharing a double- or twin-bedded room as at Spring 2013. Supplements may be charged for single rooms, en suite bathrooms etc.

|-------|-----------|
| x | £25 - £34 |
| xx | £35 - £44 |
| xxx | £45 - £54 |
| xxxx | £55 - £64 |
| xxxxx | £65+ |

You may be able to obtain lower rates by booking online through one of the hotel booking agencies - do a search for the hotel or B+B you require, or just the location + ‘hotels’ or ‘bed and breakfast’, and see what comes up. There are currently four Premier Inns and two Travelodges within reasonable distance of the route, where much lower rates may be available by paying in advance, though these rates are usually non-refundable.

HOSTELLING. There is now just one youth hostel near the route that is run by the Youth Hostels Association, at Alfriston. There is a private hostel (formerly YHA) at Blackboys, also Holcot provides hostel-type accommodation for small groups at Edenbridge. The YHA hostel at Crockham Hill closed in 1991.

CAMPING. There are very few official campsites located close to the VGW, and we know of none anywhere near the northern part of the route. There is one at Crystal Palace, 6 km from the start at East Croydon. Further south, we know of official sites close to the VGW at Blackboys, Golden Cross, Exceat and Bishopstone, and some way off route at or near Lingfield, Hartfield, Horam and Halland. Details are shown in the facilities list. Otherwise, with the permission of the landowner, you may be able to camp on farmland or in some pub gardens.

Note that no camping is permitted within the Ashdown Forest

MEALS & REFRESHMENTS

As a rule, refreshment facilities in our list are within about 1 km of the route. There is however one particularly long 'barren' stretch of 13½ km (8½ miles) - between Haxted Mill and Forest Row - with no refreshments closer than 1½ km; walkers may wish to carry their own supplies on this stretch.

Hotels and inns (marked 'H') usually provide meals and refreshments to non-residents. Additional establishments are shown thus:

-  Public house.
-  Restaurant, cafe or tea-room.

OTHER FACILITIES

Other facilities at places along the route are indicated by the following code letters:

-  Cash machine
-  Cinemas and theatres
- EQ Outdoor equipment suppliers (phone first to check they stock what you need).
Note that, as well as those listed, there are more equipment shops in Tunbridge Wells, Eastbourne and Brighton.
- EV Event
- MUS Museum
-  Post offices
-  Public telephone
- SP Shopping facilities
-  Tourist Information Centre
-  Public conveniences (toilets)
-  Bicycle hire

In some places we can only indicate the presence of these additional facilities without information. You should be able to get more information about some of these by calling Talking Pages on 118 247 (may be different for some mobile phone networks), or the nearest Tourist Information Centre .
