Vanguard Way SOUTH-NORTH Route Description: Section E

SECTION E: BLACKBOYS TO POUNDGATE

11.1 km (6.9 miles)

This second edition of the South-North version of the Route Description is based on a completely new survey undertaken by club members in 2017. Inevitably changes to the route and facilities will occur, and we try to keep abreast of them. It is our intention to bring out an updated version of the Route Descriptions and Companion as necessary, but please refer to the Latest News page on our website www.vanguardway.org.uk for any changes that may have taken place meanwhile.

Paragraphs are numbered for ease of reference. Please note that this South-North version uses the same numbering system for locations along the route as the original North-South version, so they appear to run in reverse order, i.e. in this section from E(6.22) to E(6.1). (The individual route description paragraphs in this South-North version are preceded by the letter E to distinguish them from the North-South versions.)

The route is marked on Ordnance Survey Explorer and Landranger maps, though you should note that in some places it is incorrectly marked on some older maps - we draw your attention to specific instances where relevant. Downloadable maps in pdf format showing the correct route are available on our website. Grid references are given at each numbered point to help identify the route. The country is divided into 100 km squares identified by a two letter code, and following standard OS practice we include these letters in our grid references. In this section they are in square TQ.

In this route description:

The actual route description is shown in black Roman (upright) text.

Links with stations and other key places off route are shown in boxes with a grey background.

Italic text is used for items that are not part of the main route description, including:

- Key information about facilities (see Vanguard Way Companion for more details)
- *Road and street names **
- Advice and asides.

* The mention of a road or street name does not necessarily mean that you will see this name on the spot, but it may be helpful if you need to be picked up or set down, or to find your position on a street map.

Underlined bold italic text indicates that more details can be found in the Commentary, which follows the route description.

Distances and altitudes are given in kilometres (km) and metres (m); but if you are more familiar with miles and yards, remember that 1 km is about five eighths of a mile and that 100m is about the same as 110 yards. To roughly convert metres to feet, multiply by three and add 10 per cent.

Roads with no pavement

'NP' in the route description indicates that the road has no pavement, and there are several of them in this section. Although they are usually quiet, you should take great care when walking along them, as traffic may approach at speed. Generally, you should walk in single file along the right-hand side, but this may be dangerous at a right-hand bend, where you cannot see approaching traffic, and the driver, not seeing you, may keep too close to the bend. You should therefore follow the advice given in the Highway Code for such situations, which is: 'It may be safer to cross the road well before a right-hand bend so that oncoming traffic has a better chance of seeing you. Cross back after the bend.' If walking in poor light conditions or in the dark, always wear something bright, luminous or reflective on top.

On route: Buses at Blackboys, Pound Green, High Hurstwood and Poundgate.

>High Hurstwood (Maypole pub)	4.3 km (2.7 miles)
High Hurstwood (church)	4.4 km (2.8 miles)
Poundgate	7.5 km (4.7 miles)

*Via southern link: add 0.5 km (0.3 mile).

Overview

This is an idyllic area of rolling countryside and small farms, mostly in open countryside and pastures. The VGW passes through one of its most delightful stretches around Tickerage Mill, briefly joining the Wealdway, to reach Pound Green on the outskirts of Buxted. It then crosses the River Uck and climbs to High Hurstwood before descending gradually to Poundgate.

Note 1: After heavy rain the area around the River Uck at E(6.13) can get very wet and muddy, and even flooded.

Note 2: Due to a landslide, part of this section of the VGW north of High Hurstwood is currently closed and a diversion is in place as described at E(6.7) to E(6.5).

Lowest and highest points. River Uck (32m); Poundgate (184m).

ALL INFORMATION SHOWN IS SUBJECT TO ALTERATION WITHOUT NOTICE

If your trip relies on the provision of public transport, catering etc, you are strongly advised to check in advance that they will be available on the day of your visit. Further information about these facilities is provided in the Vanguard Way Companion available at www.vanguardway.org.uk (click the 'Directions and Maps' button). If you carry a smartphone, there are apps that give up-to-date information on public transport. Search engines will provide information on refreshments, taxis and other services nearby. This can also be done on Google or Bing maps by typing e.g. 'Pubs Forest Row' in the search box, then the map will highlight locations together with website links if available.

We will always be pleased to hear about any changes you may find, in which case please email colin@vanguardway.org.uk.

COMMENTARY

on places shown in bold italics and underlined in the route description

E(6.21)

Tickerage Mill is a Grade II listed building. From 1961 until her death, it was the home of the actress, Vivien Leigh (1913-1967) who married and divorced Laurence Olivier. Her ashes were scattered over the millpond. According to Notable Sussex Women (Hastings Press), ‘she described the house as “an absolute dream”, adding “I am miserable at the thought of having to leave it”’.

The millpond was formed from the Tickerage Stream, which rises in low hills to the northeast then flows for 12 km (7.5 miles) to join the River Uck near Uckfield. Here the VGW bounces off the Wealdway (see paragraph 5.10) for just 165m.

E(6.18)

Nan Tuck was one of the more colourful residents of Buxted. In the 17th century she was accused of witchcraft and murdering her husband, but when being chased completely disappeared. Depending on whose story you believe, she was either never seen again or later found hanged in a wood, but either way her ghost is said to haunt the lane that bears her name.

E(6.16)

Pound Green, at the east end of Buxted, gets its name from the grassy triangle here, which used to be a pound for stray animals. They were replaced centuries ago by a majestic, straggling, pollarded horse chestnut tree, which in 2011 collapsed and was replaced by an Indian horse chestnut.

The straggling village of Buxted (1.5 km SW on link, www.buxtedvillage.org.uk) gets its name from the Anglo-Saxon, Bocstede, which roughly translates as beech wood - appropriate today as it boasts two shops specialising in furniture. The village used to be further west, beside the River Uck, and was a thriving centre for the production of iron, silk and hops. An extraordinary local character was George Watson (1783-1838), an autistic who possessed wondrous talents for arithmetic and memory.

In the 1830s the owner of Buxted Place, Lord Liverpool, forcibly moved the inhabitants and demolished the original village to improve the view from his mansion. The original 18th century Georgian mansion was partially destroyed by fire in 1940. In its grounds is the parish church of St. Margaret the Queen, which dates from the 13th century and has much of interest. The present village developed around the railway station, opened in 1858.

E(6.14)

The East Croydon to Uckfield railway line (also known as the Wealden Line) was opened in 1858 for the London, Brighton and South Coast Railway. It originally ran on to Lewes but that section was closed in 1968 - there is a campaign to restore it.

E(6.13)

The River Uck rises from several springs in the low hills south of Crowborough, a few kilometres to the northeast. It flows for some 20 km (12.5 miles) through Uckfield to join the River Ouse near Isfield. In recent years it has flooded after heavy rain, causing much damage to nearby properties. You will cross it again further up at location E(6.6).

The Greenhurst Viaduct, built in 1858, is 169m long and has ten arches.

E(6.11)

The Sussex Diamond Way used to share its route with the VGW for the next kilometre, but is sadly now defunct, though you may still be able to find copies of the guidebook. It ran (unsigned) for 97 km (60 miles) between Midhurst and Heathfield, and was named to celebrate the 60th anniversary of the Ramblers’ Association. More information at www.ldwa.org.uk/ldp/members/show_path.php?path_id=1079.

E(6.8)

The name of the sleepy little village of High Hurstwood has a tautological history: first recorded in 1602 as Heyhurst - which on its own means 'high enclosed wood' - it later became Hayhurst Wood and even High Heyhurstwood = 'high high enclosed wood wood'! The church, Holy Trinity, is of an unusual design, with its partly half-timbered porch tower and flat bellcote. It was built in 1871 with later additions including an elaborate chancel ceiling. Described by Pevsner as 'Arcadia indeed' because of its location next to the rhododendrons of the parsonage garden.

E(6.5)

Barnsgate Manor (1 km NW along the concrete track and across the A26 road, www.barnsgate.co.uk) is now run as a conference and wedding centre and has a restaurant and tea-room. It also has a vineyard, gift shop and children's zoo with llamas and donkeys. The 16th century manor house was built by the Barns Gate, one of the gates into the Ashdown Forest.

E(6.1)

At Poundgate was located one of the gates into the fenced Ashdown Forest, which was beside a pound (enclosure) for livestock. But the name of the pub, Crow and Gate, is thought by some to be a corruption of Crowborough Gate, so this may have been an alternative name for the same gate. Nearby is Crowborough Warren, an army training camp. During World War 2, the 23rd Army Brigade was stationed there before going to North Africa with General Montgomery in 1942. The pub sign was 'borrowed' by the 40th Tank Regiment, with the intention of carrying it into battle, but the irate landlord retrieved it before this could happen. However, in 1986 that original sign was presented to the regiment and is displayed at their annual reunions.

The nearby woodlands were used to conceal contraband during the heyday of smuggling in the late 18th and early 19th centuries. They were also notorious for illicit stills, producing 'moonshine' spirit.
